UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT.

The United States district court convened in regular session yesterday, Judge C. G. Foster presiding, and the following court officers officiating:

W. C. Perry, U. S. district attorney, and his assistant, Charles Hatten, Esq.; W. C. Jones and his deputy, George Sharrett; F. W. Shearman, clerk; E. R. Ross, bailiff for grand jury, and Douglas V. Donnelly, bailiff for petit jury.

The court was opened in due form and the names of grand jurors summoned for the day were called in the jury box. C. E. Middaugh was appointed foreman and the whole panel of seventeen was sworn in by the grand jury for the term.

The grand jury now stands as follows: C. E. Middaugh, foreman; A. G. Seaman, Seaman; Zack Myers, Windfield; M. M. McCauley, Auburn; Charles Roseberry, Arkansas City; Thomas Cochran, Ft. Scott; Henry Hart, Fort Scott; H. B. Garden, Hammond; James Giltz, Maple City; Geo. Farnum, Yates Center; Geo. Palmer, Cherryvale; J. E. Stone, Caney; Thomas Eater, Pleasanton; R. P. Adams, Dodge City; J. C. Williams, Wichita; Charles Bacon, South Mound; D. C. Krone, Independence; O. J. Winters, Coffeyville.

The charge given by the court was short and concise and covered the ground of their duties in enquiring into all crimes and misdemeanors committed against the laws of the United States within the district comprising a certain part of the Indian Territory lying north of the Canadian river and south of the 100th principal meridian not occupied by the Creeks, Seminoles, Cherokee and Choctaw Indians, and not to fail to present for fear, favor or affection or hope of reward, or to present for envy, malice or hate. He congratulated them on the light and happy manner in which they had performed their duty from the general peaceable condition of the Indian country, but though of considerable extent but little criminal business, and stated it was due no doubt to the law-abiding people therein or perhaps it might be to the facilities offered them to get away. When the charge was given, the bailiff conducted them to their room where they ended on their duties.

The petit jurors were called and ordered to hold themselves in constant attendance on the court. The criminal docket was called and a number of cases were presented. A large number of cases are against parties at large. One case against C. Rogers discharged on writ of habeas corpus by Judge Parker. The case of larceny against Geo. Gordon was continued to await defendant's discharge from Albany penitentiary.

Wm. Foster, larceny; Dale, larceny; Wm. Parker, larceny; Z. Fennemore, larceny; J. W. Dunlap, larceny; John Gunter, all sold on parole. A number of cases called and the attorney announced ready for trial.

The first case called was that of Wm. Perry, charged with murder committed four years ago in the Indian country. He was brought into court, but his lawyer not being ready the case was set for tomorrow.

The case of Sam Barton, charged with larceny of a horse at Miller's ranch in the Indian country, was called up. The defendant pleaded guilty and the court assessed the penalty of one year's imprisonment in the Kansas penitentiary at Leavenworth.

This indictment was presented by the grand jury of this term. Whereupon the court adjourned to meet at the regular hour tomorrow.

DISTRICT COURT.

Suits Entered for Several Hundred Thousand Dollars by Cattle Kings.

Six damage suits were filed in the District Clerk's office yesterday, growing out of the cattle quarantine, under the animal industry law of the state, 1900, of which are $100,000 each, the smallest of which is $25,000. The cause of the suits originated by the stoppage of nearly 100,000 head of cattle, moving from Texas to Colorado, Nebraska and Kansas markets by quarantine regulations of the state, by the agents of the state, on the southern border of Kansas.

The following are the parties to the suits: J. R. Blacker, plaintiff, versus A. H. McCoy, Arthur Gorham, R. J. Hardesty, H. Kollar, John Towers, J. C. Clay, Jr., F. B. York, Fred Singer and Earl Spence, defendants. The plaintiff asks for $100,000 damages for reason of the detention of 18,000 head of cattle by the defendants on the borders of the state while in transit to market in Colorado and Kansas. Plaintiff sets out that he was under contract to deliver that number of cattle at a certain time, under bonds to forfeit at the rate of $5 per head for all not delivered at a certain time, that by reason of defendant's unlawful, forcible and malicious detention of the said cattle by force of arms, from June 27 to July 27, he was unable to fill said orders, whereby he lost $50,000 and a depreciation of value of $15,000, for which he prays damages, and in addition prays for $33,000 smart money as punitive, exemplary and vindictive damages and costs of suit.

S. E. Webster vs. the same, same charges as case also Bennett and West, W. S. Bayley, Donahoe & Fleming, and M. C. Campbell, all of which parties plaintiff ask for damages ranging from $25,000 to $100,000 each.

The plaintiffs are represented by the following counsel: Thomas P. Fenlon, Leavenworth; Waters & Chase, Hatten & Rogers, Wichita.

These stupendous cases are matters of serious reflection and will ultimately turn on the constitutionality and legality of the cattle quarantine law, passed last year, which has been said to interfere with interstate commerce, the termination of which no doubt will be in the federal courts.

KLOPPERS COME TO GRIEF.

The wife of Martin George ran away about ten days ago with a grey Lethario and went to Wellington. Martin George did not intend to be left so he went after them and had them arrested at Wellington. They were taken before a magistrate and tried for the offense and received one sixty and one hundred dollars fine each.

Now, Bob, I would hate to hurt anybody. I wouldn't do it under ordinary circumstances, but I tell you what it is, if a burglar gets into my house again, I'll shoot him, by jimmies.

The Ft. Scott engine which went through the Ninnesch bridge last spring has been discovered. The engine is buried in the sand about midway between the railroad and the wagon bridge and the tank is near the wagon bridge. The water is too cold for men to go down and take it apart, so it will probably lay there until spring when it will be too rusty to take apart, probably.

PREPARING FOR BURGLARS.

Last Friday night burglars tried to tear off the screens of the door of E. P. Ford's residence and then gained entrance into the house by other means. Now Mr. Ford has prepared for them, as he has in an array of guns, pistols and cartridges; he has double locks, with sheet iron facings to his doors, four alarm registers of burglarious entries, and he has engaged a blacksmith to further iron his impenetrable dwelling. A double lock, with time lock, is not so lavishly dished up to the wicked. The old adage, "Be virtuous and you'll be happy," applies very forcibly in this case, when additionally constructed.

THE BOOMERS.

As was reported in yesterday's Eagle, Capt. Couch and a number of his boomers were on hand yesterday ready for trial, but they were not tried, as nothing would be done in their cases. Our reporter was in error in stating that the boomers were indicted under the complaint for which they were to be tried. They were indicted at Topeka on the charge of inciting rebellion, etc., at Arkansas City last spring, but the charge under which they appear here is that of resisting the United States troops while in camp in Oklahoma, and for which they were held in the sum of $10,000 each to appear at this term.

The grand jury last March. Regarding the boomers on this occasion Capt. Couch said yesterday that they came out of the Territory under an agreement with Gen. Hatch and were not under arrest at all, but Hatch wanted the secretary of war that he had prisoners and asked what disposition to make of them. He was ordered to turn them over to the civil authorities, but he had none in charge to turn over and in order to get out of the dilemma he came to Wichita and had Lieut. Day swear out warrants against a big batch of them, charging them with crimes that would, if proven, send them higher than a kite.

These are the crimes for which Couch and his associates came here to answer and brought their attorney, Judge Wade McDonald, of Winfield with them, but they are told to make them. The boomers have spent many a dollar coming here for trial, but they never get any and probably never will. The suits against them will probably die a natural death.

Captain Couch don't think the cattlemen are moving out of the Territory in good faith. They are only moving from the Arapahoe and Cheyenne reservations into other reservations.

The shadow whose dark folk can only be penetrated by that hope which springs eternal in the human breast, has fallen upon another home in this city brightening the road and leaving two sorrowing hearts which will not be comforted. Who but those who have composed the lifeless form of the child in whose eyes they were wont to see a measure of their own existence, can tell of the void the smiling child leaves. Our friend John Leary and his young wife call. They will bury their little baby boy today.

A friend of these sorrowing parents sends as the following beautiful tribute which came to hand while we were yet writing: To the memory of little M. O. Leary, died Sept. 6th, 1885.

Fold the little waken fingers On the pillow where he lay; On his little face still linger Dimpled smile of perfect rest.

Soft brown eyes now closed forever, Tears shall dim no more, for aye, Dimpled hands no restless e'er, Lie in snowy peace to-day.

And the grief-worn and young mother With a thrill of regret, That the angels first shall see those hands Restless and robed again.

Mid the grasses laid to rest, Could we keep thee through life's storm, Slumber as thou art to-day.

Could we shield thee from the tempest, With a parent's doing love, And return thee fair and spotless To our Father's home above?

Ah, we could not; Ah, we could not; Dye the bitter tears away, Safe one little boy awaits us, In a land of perfect day.

Wichita, Sept. 7, 1885.

Capt. P. R. Ayres started for Wichita today, where he will attend United States court. The captain has permitted himself in this country during the past ten years, and will no doubt be astonished at the wonderful growth of Kansas during his exile. From Wichita he goes to Topeka, an old stamping ground of his, as he was clerk of the house of representatives years ago. We trust the Topekaites will handle our Barber county Democratic war horse in a first-class manner, and send him home right side up with care. If Capt. Ayres being talked to death by the Wichita Democrats, Topeka will only be a side dish—Sun City Union.

Mr. Koenert, of the firm of Hussey & Koenert, who has been out at Anthony speaking of the late fire says: There is but one opinion in Anthony as to the guilt of McKnight and that not one man could be found in the town who has not made up his mind on the matter. He says: This is the third fire McKnight has been concerned in and all for money, and that a short time ago his, Mr. Koenert's brother, put out a fire he set in the building.

JEWISH NEW YEAR.

The Jewish new year begins at 6 o'clock this evening at which time all Jews close their places of business. Probably all the Israelites in this city will close their stores at this evening and keep them closed until 6 o'clock tomorrow evening. A few Jews, from most Friday the Yom Kippur or fast begins and lasts until the same hour Saturday evening, during which time the Israelites are supposed to eat of nothing.

Col. W. C. Jones, U. S. Marshal for Kansas, who came down to see that his end of Judge Foster's court started off all right, made a call yesterday to learn what the matter was with the Eagle and to renew old-time acquaintanceship. Col. Jones says: Wichita is undoubtedly the liveliest city in the state and that the opening of the Indian Territory will be the signal for his future overhauling greatness.

Toll W. Walton, of the Caldwell Journal, came up yesterday to attend the settings of the United States court, as the boomers have all been told if we can't see who the subsequent proceedings should further interest our friend, but many he wants to speak to the judge. We hope in any event he will not overlook the fact that the man who now handles the prisoners for that court is a Cleveland Democrat.

Mr. Wm. Russell received a dispatch last evening from the German, E. E. Conner, now in session at De Witt, Neb., which announces that Rev. Ott was chosen presiding elder of the Wichita district, that Rev. Sternberg will be the pastor of the church in this city and Rev. John Haller, who preached here last year, will go to Sedalia, Mo.

A. Allen, of the Red Front shoe store comes to the front with an unusual heavy stock of goods this fall. Several hundred cases of goods arrived yesterday and more coming. His many customers are no doubt glad to know that he proposes to sell still lower than ever before.

Mr. F. W. Able, editor at the Santa Fe Dispatch, was all smiles and happy yesterday, and was receiving congratulations and setting the cigars up to the boys. A fine boy baby, whose first musical notes were heard yesterday, is the innocent cause of all this hilarity. Mother and boy doing well.

Doc Worrell would like to catch a couple of loafers, one of whom represented himself to be Doc Last Sunday. The two men referred to got into a racket with two men from the country and were threatening terrible things when one of the countrymen spunked up and was going to sail into them. One of the fellows then got up a scheme to scare the farmers which was to tell them that was Constable Doc Worrell. They had heard of Doc and of his ability to take care of himself and they said if you are Doc Worrell we don't want any trouble with you. The fellow then blustered around at a great rate and abused the countrymen. Now Doc says if he could get hold of the fellow who claimed to be him, he would give him what Paddy gave the drum—a good kicking.

WEDDING BELLS.

Nuptials of Mr. George Bear and Miss Kitty Fairchild.

Reception at the Residence of the Bride's Sister—Guests, Toilets and Decorations.

There was a large crowd at the First Methodist church at 3:30 yesterday afternoon to witness the marriage ceremony of Mr. George Bear, of this city, Rev. T. S. Hodgson, the pastor officiating.

When the bride party entered the church the organ played forth the bridal chorus of Lohengrin.

The bride was attended by Miss Grace Bear, the groom's sister, and the groom by Mr. Samuel F. Woodard. The bride was dressed in a neat white cashmere dress trimmed with silk lace of the same hue, with a bouquet of white geraniums at the breast. The bridesmaid wore a handsome embroidered null dress with lace trimmings and a bouquet of cinnamon roses.

The ceremony over the bridal party marched out of the church to the sweet strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march. They then entered a carriage and were driven to the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Abram Smith, brother-in-law and sister of the bride, where a handsome reception was given to about twenty guests.

After the usual round of congratulations the guests were ushered into the dining room where a very fine repast was spread.

After dinner the happy couple took the 6 o'clock train on the St. Louis, Fort Scott and Wichita railroad and sped away to their future home amid the adieux of relatives and friends.

The bride and groom are highly respected in this community. The bride, Miss Fairchild, is formerly of Syracuse, N. Y., and is a young lady of very promising manners, sister of Mr. Abram Smith, who is well known and stands high in Wichita society. Mr. Smith, her husband, is one of our largest contractors and builders. The groom is the son of Mr. J. W. Bear, county surveyor of Sedgewick county, and is a resident of the town of Argonia, and a young man of great promise.

There was a very fine array of bridal gifts: Beautiful tea set of decorated French china, Mr. and Mrs. Abram Smith.

Silver casket, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Heiser.

Beautiful card receiver, Mr. and Mrs. Abram Smith.

Cake knife, Mr. Frank Elwood.

Piano and English side-board, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Bear.

Willow work basket, Misses Lula Granger and Minnie Fairchild.

Silver individual casket, Misses Sadie and Mary Guthrie.

Sum of money, Mr. Abram Smith.

Handsome plush covered book of literary gems, Mr. Sam F. and Miss F. Estelle Woodard.

Portmanteau, name mislaid.

Swinging chandelier and lamp, Messrs. Frank Smith and Harvey Hill.

Set of silver knives, Dr. and Mrs. Fairchild.

Set of silver forks, Col. and Mrs. L. N. Woodard.

Opera hood, Nettie Darling.

Set of silver spoons, Mr. and Mrs. Abram Smith.

Fruit dish, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Torrey.

Lemonade set, Lulu J. and Miss Carrie Smith.

Silver casket, Mr. C. M. Fairchild.

Two china sets, Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Hoyt, Nebraska.

Silver cake basket, Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Bear.

Fruit dish, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Campbell.

Silver butter dish, Rev. and Mrs. J. D. Wood.

Handsome silver pickle casket and tongs, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Allen.

Beautiful work box, Miss Grace Bear.

Water pitcher, Mr. and Mrs. Spangenberg.

Pair of porcelain vases, Mrs. J. B. Harner.

The Eagle extends hearty congratulations and wishes them a long and happy union.

MAGISTRATE'S COURT.

M. M. Scott was arrested yesterday on the complaint of Mrs. Mary E. Brown, for disturbing her peace and quiet, etc. It is another turn of the case of Monday, in which Mrs. Brown and her friend and agent were fined one dollar and costs each for disturbing the peace and quiet of M. M. Scott.

J. S. Loy was tried yesterday by a jury for destroying a certain instrument of writing purporting to be a lease. Read for the defense and Wall and Balderton for the prosecution. After a lengthy contest, lasting all the afternoon, a verdict of not guilty was rendered. The prosecuting witness was W. H. Campbell, who had obtained a lease from Loy, the defendant, on a stone quarry situated near Augusta. Mr. Loy afterwards got possession of the lease and destroyed it for which he was tried and acquitted as above.

Has gone to New York to meet our buyers from Charleston, S. C., and Jacksonville, Florida, houses.

C. Reed, an educated fifteenth amendment citizen and vulgarly called a nigger, was up before his honor, charged with playing that nigger game commonly called craps, a species of gambling. The court saw the ante and raised the gentleman of African descent $25 and scooped the pile. Now this con is a fine broke.

Piron Barr was fined $38 and costs for that kind of taboos business that has been going on so long that it has got to be called the old thing. She antied and passed the door in peace.

J. A. Jewett, the clerk at Frooman & Peckham's grocery, was so joyful yesterday that he could scarcely do a lick of work and he set up the cigars to all his friends. It is a fine boy and filed his appearance at his parents residence at 6:30 night before last. Mother and child doing well.
